Invoice Completion

Invoicing progress far below target.

Customer Engagement

Reduced client engagement in Q4 2019 due to internal and external factors.

Potential Revenue Trend

Estimated Revenue decline in 2020 with temporary recovery in Q2.

Stage Progression

Poor opportunity progression through the sales stages.

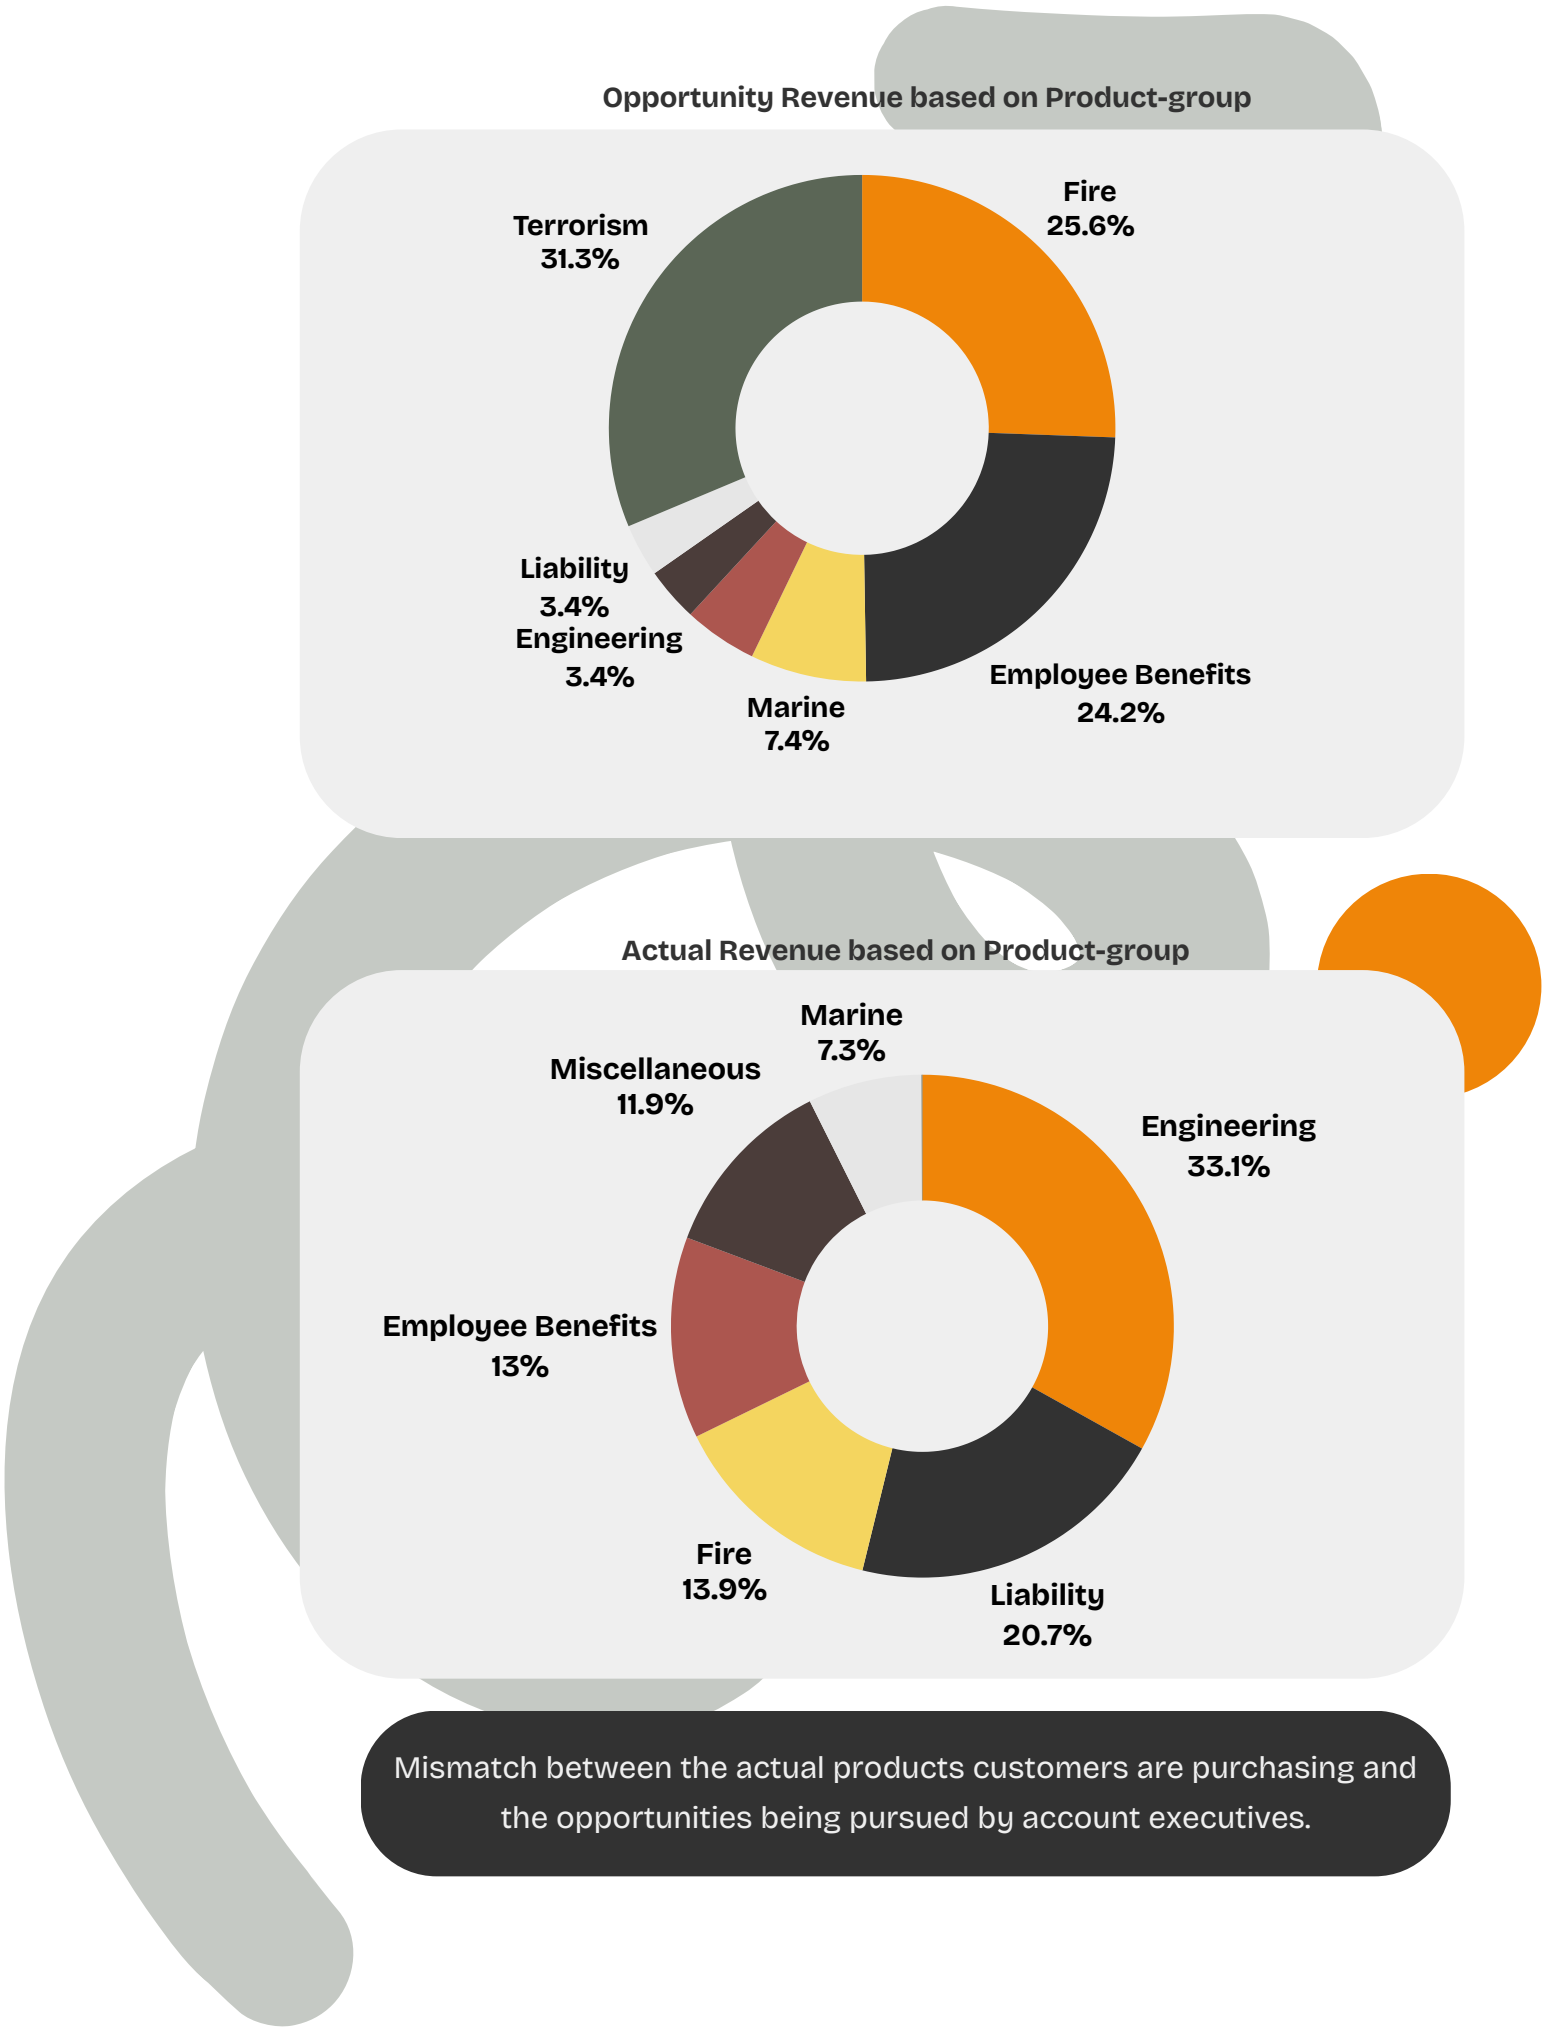

Performance of Account Executives

Underperformance of non-top performers and role shifts among executives.

Recommendations

	Recommendations	Potential Outcome
Challenge-wise
Renewals, Cross-Sells and New Performance	Targeted campaigns for cross-selling & new business.	Balanced growth, increased cross-sell & new business revenue.
Invoice Completion	Automate reminders, streamline invoicing process.	Higher invoice completion rates, better cash flow.
Customer Engagement	Pre-schedule meetings, improve documentation	Better client engagement, consistent activity.
Potential Revenue Trend	Promote top-purchased policies (engineering, liability, fire) for new customers & cross-sell.	Increased sales alignment, improved cross-sell conversion.
Stage Progression	Accelerate stage progression, reduce bottlenecks.	Faster deal closure, higher revenue.
Performance of Account Executives	Support lower performers with training, reallocate responsibilities.	Improved team performance, better resource allocation.

Conclusion

Based on comprehensive data analysis, we've identified key areas for improvement to drive balanced growth. Data-based insights highlight the need to focus on cross-selling, new business acquisition, and balancing of renewals. Streamlining invoicing, increasing client engagement, and promoting top-purchased product groups will enhance performance. Addressing opportunity bottlenecks and supporting lower performers through training will optimize team efficiency. These strategies offer a clear, data-driven path to overcome challenges and drive company growth.
